CHAPTER I.

FOR a detective whose talents had not been recognized at headquarters I possessed an ambition which, fortunately for my standing with the lieutenant of the precinct, had not yet been expressed in words. Though I had small reason for expecting great things of myself, I had always cherished the hope that if a big case came my way I should be found able to do something with it—something more, that is, than I had seen accomplished by the police of the District of Columbia since I had had the honor of being one of their number. Therefore, when I found myself plunged, almost without my own volition, into the Jeffrey-Moore affair, I believed that the opportunity had come whereby I might distinguish myself.

It had complications, this Jeffrey-Moore affair; greater ones than the public ever knew, keen as the interest in it ran both in and out of Washington.

This is why I propose to tell the story of this great tragedy from my own standpoint, even if in so doing I risk the charge of attempting to exploit my own connection with this celebrated case. In its course I encountered Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Very often a married woman or young girl does not know who to turn to for advice in circumstances where she dislikes to talk with the family physician about delicate matters. At such times write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free consultation and advice, and the same will be held as sacredly confidential. It is foolish to consult women friends or persons without medical training.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contains no alcohol, is entirely vegetable and was the first exclusively woman's tonic on the market—it has sold more largely in the past third of a century than any other medicine for women.

All other compounds intended for women only are made with alcohol, or alcohol is a large component—this alcohol injures the nerves. The little red corpuscles of the blood are shrunk by alcohol. All such compounds, therefore, do harm.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. Use them with the "Favorite Prescription" when a pill is required. One is a laxative, two, a mild cathartic.

he down where he was, the old man made for the door and in another moment would have been in the street, if I had not stepped after him.

"You are a Moore and live in or near that old house?" I asked.

The surprise with which he met this question daunted me a little.

"How long have you been in Washington, I should like to ask?" was his acid retort.

"Oh, some five months."

His good nature, or what passed for such in this irascible old man, returned in an instant, and he curtly but not unkindly remarked:

"You haven't learned much in that time." Then, with a nod more ceremonious than many another man's bow, he added, with sudden dignity: "I am of the elder branch and live in the cottage fronting the old place. I am the only resident on the block. When you have lived here longer you will know why that special neighborhood is not a favorite one with those who cannot boast of the Moore blood. For the present, let us attribute the bad name that it holds to—malaria." And with a significant hitch of his lean shoulders, which set in undulating motion every fold of the old fashioned cloak he wore, he started again for the door.

But my curiosity was by this time roused to fever heat. I knew more about this house than he gave me credit for. No one who had read the papers of late, much less a man connected with the police, could help being well informed in all the details of its remarkable history. What I had failed to know was his close relationship to the family whose name for the last two weeks had been in every mouth.

"Wait!" I called out. "You say that you live opposite the Moore house."

"You can then tell me"—
But he had no mind to stop for any gossip.

"It was all in the papers," he called back. "Read them. But first be sure to find out who has struck a light in the house that we all know has not even a caretaker in it."

It was good advice. My duty and my curiosity both led me to follow it.

Perhaps you have heard of the distinguishing feature of this house. If so, you do not need my explanations. But if, for any reason, you are ignorant of the facts which within a very short time have set a final seal of horror upon this old historic dwelling, then you will be glad to read what has made and will continue to make the Moore house in Washington one to be pointed at in daylight and shunned after dark, not only by superstitious colored folk, but by all who are susceptible to the most ordinary emotions of fear and dread.

It was standing when Washington was a village. It antedates the capitol and the White House. Built by a man of wealth, it bears to this day the impress of the large ideas and quiet elegance of colonial times; but the shadow which speedily fell across it made it a marked place even in those early days. While it has always escaped the hackneyed epithet of "haunted," families that have moved in have as quickly moved out, giving as their excuse that no happiness was to be found there and that sleep was impossible under its roof. That there was some reason for this lack of rest within walls which were not without their tragic reminiscences all must acknowledge. Death had often occurred there, and while this fact can be stated in regard to most old houses, it is not often that one can say, as in this case, that it was invariably sudden and invariably of one character.

A lifeless man, lying outstretched on a certain hearthstone, might be found once in a house and awaken no special comment, but when this same discovery has been made twice, if not thrice, during the history of a single dwelling, one might surely be pardoned a distrust of its seemingly homelike appointments and discern in its slowly darkening walls the presence of an evil which if left to itself might perish in the natural decay of the place, but which, if met and challenged, might strike again and make another blot on its thrice crimsoned hearthstone.

But these are old fables which I should hardly presume to mention had it not been for the recent occurrence which has recalled them to all men's minds and given to this long empty and slowly crumbling building an importance which has spread its fame from one end of the country to the other. I refer to the tragedy attending the wedding lately celebrated there.

Veronica Moore, rich, pretty and willful, had long cherished a strange liking for this frowning old home of her ancestors and, at the most critical time in her life, conceived the idea of proving to herself and to society at large that no real ban lay upon it save in the imagination of the superstitious. So, being about to marry the choice of her young heart, she caused this house to be opened for the wedding ceremony.

So, being about to marry the choice of her young heart, she caused this house to be opened for the wedding ceremony.

It was all so trivial that I gave him but scant attention till he let a name fall which caused me to prick up my ears and even to put in a word. "The Moore house," he had said.

"The Moore house?" I repeated in amazement. "Are you speaking of the Moore house?"

A thousand recollections came with the name.

"What other?" he grumbled, directing toward me a look as keen as it was impatient. "Do you think that I would bother myself long about a house I had no interest in, or drag Rudge from his warm rug to save some ungrateful neighbor from a possible burglary? No, it is my house which some rogue has chosen to enter. That is," he suavely corrected, as he saw surprise in every eye, "the house which the law will give me, if anything ever happens to that bit of a girl whom my brother left behind him."

Growling some words at the dog, who showed a decided inclination to many—with what result you know. Though the occasion was a joyous one and accompanied by all that could give cheer to such a function, it had not escaped the old time shadow. One of the guests straying into the room of ancient and unhalloved memory, the one room which had not been thrown open to the crowd, had been found within five minutes of the ceremony lying in its dolorous hearthstone dead, and though the bride was spared a knowledge of the dreadful fact till the holy words were said, a panic had seized the guests and emptied the house as suddenly and completely as though the plague had been discovered there.

This is why I hastened to follow Uncle David when he told me that all was not right in this house of tragic memories.

RUSSIAN RETREAT

Gen. Kuropatkin's Advance Has Received a Sudden Check.

THE JAPS WERE THERE

Marshal Oyama's Forces Offered Such Resistance That the Muscovites Were Forced to Fall Back.

Fighting of the Most Stubborn Sort Characterizes the Present Bloody Battle.

No appreciable progress has been made in the projected advance southward of the Russian army under General Kuropatkin since the initial success of the movement in the capture of Bensiaputze. Fighting of the most stubborn description continues along the entire front. Field Marshal Oyama reports the capture of thirty guns from the Russians and claims distinct successes in forcing the Russians to retire from some of their advanced positions. General Kuropatkin's report to Emperor Nicholas is couched in guarded terms and claims nothing in the way of accomplished results. Reports from the Russian military commander at Port Arthur show that the Japanese have brought a shell-fire to bear on the inner fortress. The garrison, however, is represented to be hopeful of the outcome of the siege.

THE TIDE AGAINST HIM

Kuropatkin Seems to Have Again Suffered Disaster.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 14.—General Kuropatkin reports that during the fighting Wednesday and Thursday the advance troops were reinforced from the principal positions; that last evening the left wing was ordered to fall back on the main position, and that later the center also was obliged to fall back.

Tokio, Oct. 14.—It is yet too early to measure the results of the tremendous struggle which has been waged for the past few days south of Mukden, but all reports reaching Tokio indicate that General Kuropatkin has been decisively whipped and severely punished. The Russian commander was evidently caught while making his dispositions with his forces scattered, and he was beaten before he could recover.

Much depends on the ability and the resolution of the Japanese in applying and following up their advantages. Kuropatkin may turn up in favorable ground and succeed in beating back the Japanese onslaught, but the tide seems against him.

The Japanese made a desperate effort to turn the Russian right, and if this effort should be successful it will carry disaster to the Russian arms. The struggle around Bensiaputze is being followed with intense interest here. The Russian force there is estimated at 5,000 and its isolation or loss would be a severe blow.

Estimates of the total forces engaged vary. One telegram from Liao Yang says that Russians have 200,000 men, with 1,000 guns. The Japanese force exceeds the number engaged at the battle of Liao Yang.

HEAVY LOSSES

Have Been Sustained by Both Sides in Present Battle.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 14.—General Stoessel, commander of the Russian troops at Port Arthur, telegraphs that the Russians recently recaptured Signal Hill. He adds that the Japanese are bombarding the interior of the fortress with new batteries and that the bombardment is becoming more and more violent.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 14.—Desperate fighting and heavy losses on both sides, with varying success for the Russians, is the summing up of the situation by General Kuropatkin in a telegram filed on Oct. 13. There is no sign of the battle's slackening. On the contrary, General Kuropatkin telegraphs that he had ordered the army to resume the fight with unabated vigor today.

General Kuropatkin is in the thick of the fighting, and General Sakharoff, his chief of staff, is personally directing reconnaissances. The conflict has been most desperate at the center and on the west flank. The advance guards at those points had to be repeatedly reinforced, owing to the great pressure of the Japanese attacks. At nightfall on Oct. 12 the Russian right was withdrawn from its main position; but one of the abandoned positions was retaken at the point of the bayonet during the night.

Contrary to Field Marshal Oyama's report, no indication is given in General Kuropatkin's telegram of an enveloping movement by General Oku. The only positions captured by force were at the center, where the Russians were compelled to retire during the afternoon. There is no mention of the loss of guns. The war office declines to deny that there was such a loss, but explains that such an incident was possible while positions were changing hands, but that even if it is true, it is of no material consequence.

According to telegrams from Russian correspondents, the horrors of the battle were intensified by bitter cold and rain. General Mischchenko, who had been reported to be raiding in Korea, played a conspicuous part in the fighting on the Russian left flank.

According to the latest news of the fighting in the direction of Bensiaputze, the Russians were striving for the possession of a pass, but no news was received from there yesterday. The pass alluded to presumably is Hu pass, which is mentioned in General Sakharoff's telegram of Oct. 11. Hu pass is eight miles due north of Bensiaputze. Should this pass fall into the hands of the Russians it would involve the capture of Bensiaputze, thus opening up the road to Hsiao Yang.

Japanese Successes Reported.

Tokio, Oct. 14.—The latest telegrams from the front indicate the continuation of Japanese success. General Oku's left army alone bagged twenty-five guns. The Russians made two desperate counter attacks against the Japanese left, but were repulsed with heavy slaughter. The Japanese commanders in their reports give expression to their admiration of the valor of the Russians.

Kuropatkin's Promotion.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 14.—Emperor Nicholas held a council of war yesterday, at which, it is believed, the appointment of General Kuropatkin to the post of commander-in-chief of the forces in Manchuria was decided on.

Japanese Victory Assured.

London, Oct. 14.—The London papers have to rely mainly on official reports for news of the far East; but on dispatches thus far received, they regard a complete Japanese victory as assured.

A NOTABLE TRIP

What Senator Fairbanks Did on His Swing Around the Circle.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Senator Charles W. Fairbanks returned to Chicago last evening from his campaign tour to the Pacific coast. He came in over the Rock Island road in the special train in which he had made the journey. The trip began at Chicago on Sept. 23 and has occupied the entire twenty days since, extending not only to the Pacific coast, but along it from Tacoma to San Francisco. The distance traveled was 6,396 miles. Fourteen states were traversed and 111 speeches made. No material accident or delay occurred to mar the success of the tour. The highest day's record of speeches was made in Iowa, where between 7 o'clock in the morning and 10 o'clock at night fourteen addresses were delivered. Senator Fairbanks announced himself as greatly pleased with the tour and said that he felt as well and as fresh as when he began the campaign.

Completing a day of speechmaking through Illinois, Senator Fairbanks last night addressed an audience that filled the First Regiment armory to overflowing. This is the first time that Senator Fairbanks has spoken in Chicago since he received the nomination, and so much enthusiasm was manifested by his listeners that the meeting resembled the vigorous rallies of 1896 and 1900.

Departed for Rome.

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—Bishop Chard and the Rev. Joseph Chartrand left for Rome today to take part in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the proclamation of the immaculate conception. The anniversary will occur on Dec. 8. The bishop and Father Chartrand will return next January.

Parker Leaves New York.

New York, Oct. 14.—Judge Parker returned to Espous last evening. He expects to come to New York again next Tuesday.

TERS TELEGRAMS

The triennial national council of the Congregational church is in session at Des Moines.

Senator Fairbanks traveled 6,396 miles, traversed fourteen states and made 111 speeches on his Western trip.

Representatives of the Mormon church of Utah are negotiating for the purchase of a tract of 300,000 acres of land in the state of Taiwan, Mex.

Dr. Leo Vogel, secretary of the Swiss Legation at Berlin, who has been appointed Swiss minister at Washington, will be the youngest diplomat of his rank at the American capital.

Miss Nettie Blackmore, Minneapolis, tells how any young woman may be permanently cured of monthly pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"YOUNG WOMEN:—I had frequent headaches of a severe nature, dark spots before my eyes, and at my menstrual periods I suffered untold agony. A member of the lodge advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I only scorned good advice and felt that my case was hopeless, but she kept at me until I bought a bottle and started taking it. I soon had the best reason in the world to change my opinion of the medicine, as each day my health improved, and finally I was entirely without pain at my menstruation periods. I am most grateful."—NETTIE BLACKMORE, 28 Central Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Painful Periods

are quickly and permanently overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The above letter is only one of hundreds of thousands which prove this statement to be a fact. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality,—if it is painful something is wrong. Don't take narcotics to deaden the pain, but remove the cause—perhaps it is caused by irregularity or womb displacements, or the development of a tumor. Whatever it is, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is guaranteed to cure it.

If there is anything about your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. She can surely help you, for no person in America can speak from a wider experience in treating female ills. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

Details of Another Case.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and carelessness is the cause of most of the sufferings of women. I believe that if we properly understood the laws of health we would all be well, but if the sick women only knew the truth about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they would be saved much suffering and would soon be cured.

"I used it for five months for a local difficulty which had troubled me for years, and for which I had spent hundreds of dollars in the vain endeavor to rectify. My life forces were being sapped, and I was daily losing my vitality.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me completely, and I am now enjoying the best of health, and am most grateful, and only too pleased to endorse such a great remedy."—MISS JENNIE L. EDWARDS, 604 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women.

Preacher's Wife Hangs Herself.

New Albany, Ind., Oct. 14.—Mrs. Geneva Sutherland, wife of the Rev. U. G. Sutherland, committed suicide by hanging at her home. Mrs. Sutherland was thirty-three years old and was a daughter of John Scheller of Sellersburg, Clark county, where she was married six years ago. While Mr. Sutherland was pastor of the Park Christian church in this city, about three years ago, she fled suit for divorce, alleging cruel treatment, and returned to her former home. A few weeks later the divorce suit was withdrawn, and she was reconciled to Mr. Sutherland. Since his resignation as pastor of the Park Christian church two years ago, he has been engaged in evangelistic work in the country churches in the vicinity of this city.

BRIDE-ELECT NOT FOUND

Writ of Habeas Corpus Failed to Reveal Hiding Place.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 14.—The betrothal of Harry Little and Miss Carrie DeLong was not approved by the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeLong of Bluffton, and several weeks ago, as is charged by the disappointed suitor, the bride-elect was brought to this county by her parents, and was placed in the Academy of the Sacred Heart, an institution under Catholic management. This week Mr. Little, accompanied by his father and also by an attorney, came here and instituted habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Heaton of the superior court, asserting that the bride-elect was of legal age, and that she was being detained against her will. The writ to produce the girl in court was entrusted to the sheriff, who made return that she could not be found. It developed, as alleged, that Sister Superior Borgia, on being informed of Little's purpose to apply for a writ of habeas corpus, sent the girl outside of the jurisdiction of Indiana, in care of a sister of the church, and attorneys representing her father refuse to give her address. The affair has caused much comment.

Ligonier's Fire Loss.

Goshen, Ind., Oct. 14.—Business interests at Ligonier sustained a loss of $80,000 by a fire which started in the basement of the Williams drug store and spread to Kerr's furniture store, the Wertheimer poolrooms, and the Fair store, over which the Elks' splendid lodgerooms are located.

ALWAYS TIRED NEVER RESTED

To be tired out from hard work or bodily exercise is natural and rest is the remedy, but there is an exhaustion without physical exertion and a tired, never-rested feeling—a weariness without work that is unnatural and shows some serious disorder is threatening the health. One of the chief causes of that "Always-tired, never-rested condition" is impure blood and bad circulation. Unless the body is nourished with rich, pure blood there is lack of nervous force, the muscles become weak, the digestion impaired, and general disorder occurs throughout the system. Debility, insomnia, nervousness, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, strength and energy, and the hundreds of little ailments we often have are due directly to a bad condition of the blood and circulation, and the quickest way to get rid of them is by purifying and building up the blood, and for this purpose no remedy equals S. S. S., which contains the best ingredients for cleansing the blood and toning up the system. It is a vegetable blood purifier and tonic combined, that enriches the blood, and through it the entire system is nourished and refreshing sleep comes to the tired, never-rested, body.

Comparison by Hon. Chas. F. Remy,
Reporter of Supreme Court.

In the Indianapolis Star's series of political articles there appears today an article by Charles F. Remy, reporter of the supreme court in which he compares the political conditions during the campaign of 1864 with the conditions this year. Mr. Remy has many friends in this county who will be glad to read his articles which we reproduce in full. He says:

In many respects this campaign is not different from the successive contests between the Republican and Democratic parties since 1856, but if I read history aright the campaign of 1904 is more like the campaign of 1864 than any other. In 1864 the Democratic party had so far abandoned the extreme position it had taken on the question of state's rights in the campaign of '56 and '60 that it acknowledged the power of the federal government to preserve the union, and George B. McClellan in his letter accepting the Democratic nomination for the presidency, said that he believed in "vigorous nationality." This being the position all along taken by Lincoln and the Republican party, there was nothing left for McClellan and his party to do but to attack the personality and the administration of the president—and Abraham Lincoln became the issue. How like the present campaign forty years later. The Democratic reorganizers have abandoned the position taken by their party on vital issues in 1896 and 1900; have accepted their position of the Republican party as the right one, and have no other issue than the criticism of the president and his administration.

In 1864 they said Lincoln was home-ly. They called him a baboon. In 1904 there are those who see nothing of Roosevelt but his teeth. In 1864 they said Lincoln was a clown, a country-town story teller, without dignity, an insult to the gentle men of the government. The Indiana State Sentinel of Oct. 22, 1864, said editorially: "We assume that you regard Abraham Lincoln as unfit for president. We have a right to assume it. There is not an intelligent man in America who thinks him fit for the office. (It is beyond denial that Mr. Lincoln's habit of joking with vulgarity, and too frequently indecency, is his most prominent characteristic.)" In 1904 they tell us that Roosevelt lacks dignity; that his mannerisms are shocking.

In 1864 the Democrats said that Lincoln was a "negro lover." They make the same charge against Theodore Roosevelt in 1904.

Horatio Seymour said in his speech, assuming the duties as chairman of the Democratic national convention in 1864, that "This administration (Lincoln's) cannot save the union if it would. . . . It has hampered its own freedom of action by unconstitutional acts. . . . We are resolved that the party that has made the history of our country since its advent to power seem more like some unnatural and terrible dream shall be withdrawn." In 1904 John Sharp Williams, the chairman of the St. Louis convention, attacked President Roosevelt's administration, and, among other things, said: "The Democracy will nominate for president a man trained in the ways of the constitution, who will not usurp the judicial and legislative functions."

The Democratic platform of 1864 declared that Abraham Lincoln as president had "disregarded the constitution in every part, and that public liberty and private right had alike been trodden under foot." The St. Louis platform says that the Roosevelt administration has violated the "plain statutes of the United States, international usages and constitutional law."

In his letter of acceptance McClellan's criticism of Lincoln was couched in the following language: "I should seek in the constitution of the United States, and the laws framed in accordance therewith, the rule of my duty and the limitation of executive power." Mr. Parker in his letter of acceptance, attacks what he affirms to be the centralizing and imperial tendencies of the Roosevelt administration, and states that the chief issue is "constitutionalism versus imperialism."

Joseph E. McDonald, Democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, in a speech delivered by him at Greencastle, July 20, 1864, which speech was published in full in the State Sentinel, said: "The institutions of this free country can not stand another four years unless better counsels prevail and other principles govern the affairs of the nation. . . . No man who believes that the continuance of the party in power tends to the overthrow of civil and constitutional liberty can fail to register his vote and influence on the side of those who are battling for constitutional liberty without being acrimonial." There record of this campaign shows that Mr. Kern is almost as much alarmed for the future of his country as was McDonald, for in his recent keynote at Anderson he said: "If the love of liberty is to be longer cherished among our people. If the right of self-government is to be longer cherished amongst us as a right inestimable, if our liberties and those of the future generations are to be perpetuated, I submit that the mad policies of this (Roosevelt's) administration should be ended at the polls this November."

That the Democrats were very much exercised because of the alleged imperialistic tendencies of the Lincoln administration is shown by the action of a large convention of that party called to meet at Albany, N. Y., where resolutions were passed demanding that the administration should be true to the constitution. When Lincoln, in an open letter, replied to the criticism, certain Democratic leaders rejoined that the "original acts on the part of the president had been aggravated by the claim of despotic power." In 1904 constitutional clubs are being organized in the same state of New York.

On the editorial page of the Indianapolis Sentinel of Aug. 9, 1864, may be found the following language: "Strange as it may seem, there are many people who fail to realize the great and terrible fact that Abraham Lincoln has become a usurper, if ever there existed a usurper in the history of the world. . . . Have the people lost their virtue and intelligence that they will consent to the reelection of this usurper of power beyond the constitution?" The Sentinel of today is making the same charge against President Roosevelt.

The American people believed in Abraham Lincoln; they believe in Theodore Roosevelt. They sustained one, and they will sustain the other. History ranks Lincoln the greatest statesman of his century; when the unprejudiced historian writes the history of the years in which we live the record will be that of all the presidents since Lincoln there were none greater than Theodore Roosevelt.

The parallel of the campaigns of 1864 and 1904 might be carried further than as to the issue. McClellan, as did Parker, modified his party's platform, and election day was, as this year, on Nov. 8.

Fine Comic Opera

"Priscilla," or the "Pilgrim's Proxy," the new famous comic opera, will be presented here on Tuesday evening, Oct. 18, by a select company of artist players. They appeared last night at Columbus and played to a crowded house. The reception was significant, and as the opera progressed, the enthusiasm grew until at the end or climax of the second act the audience was wild with laughter. It was voted the finest and most enjoyable evening's entertainment given in Columbus for many a month.

The company includes many charming singers and clever comedians. The story of the courtship of Miles Standish is always read with pleasure, but here is the story enacted in a most realistic manner and the correct costume. Added is a wealth of comedy, principally in the hands of Higgins and Resignation, the old maid.

Seats will be put on sale at Peter's drug store. Popular prices will be adopted.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver, of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain constantly in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

IN GOOD FAITH.

We Offer to Refund the Price of Vinol if it Does Not Give Satisfaction.

Important announcement By the W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Since we originated the idea of selling Vinol on the "money back if not satisfied" plan, many other manufacturers have begun to advertise their goods on the same plan, and because of the fact that many of them are not acting in good faith, in regard to returning money to dissatisfied purchasers, or attaching such exacting conditions to their "guarantee to return your money" that the public has become suspicious.

Now we want our customers and everybody in Seymour to understand distinctly once for all that there is not, and never has been, a "string on" the Vinol guarantee. If you buy Vinol from us, use it in good faith, and find after a fair trial that it cannot benefit your case, we will positively agree to return your money without question. We require you to sign no statement, or refer to your friends as to your honesty—your word is good enough for us.

We simply mean what we say when we guarantee Vinol, for we know of no remedy that is more universally successful than Vinol, and although a hundred thousand dollars was spent last season in advertising Vinol on this plan, not one-half of one percent, of the thousands upon thousands of bottles sold were brought back to the druggist as unsatisfactory.

Was there ever such a record made by a medicine before? This must prove that Vinol was successful in more than 99 1/2 per cent, of the cases in which it was used.

This is easily accounted for when you remember that Vinol is an improved and up-to-date form of one of the oldest and best remedies known to mankind—cod liver oil. It gives you the medicinal body building elements of this famous old remedy in a highly concentrated and delicious form but without oil or grease to upset the stomach and retard its work, making it doubly potent and popular, both with the profession and the people. ### Engineer Held Responsible.

Can You Eat?

J. B. Taylor, a prominent merchant of Christman, Tex., says: "I could not eat because of a weak stomach. I lost all strength and ran down in weight. All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hearing of some wonderful cures effected by use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, I concluded to try it. The first bottle benefited me, and after taking four bottles, I am fully restored to my usual strength, weight and health." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures. Sold by A. J. Pellens and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Redmond Was Impressed.

Dublin, Oct. 14.—When John E. Redmond, newly arrived from the American tour, reached Dublin last night he was escorted to the room of the United Irish League by bands of torch-bearers and enthusiastic crowds. Addressing a meeting of the league, Mr. Redmond emphasized the unexpected success that had attended his visit to America. He said he believed there was nothing the Irish party could not ask from America so long as they avoided dissension and pursued a sensible policy in pressing toward the great goal of independence.

O, beauty! what a powerful weapon thou art. The bravest men fall at thy feet. No wonder women take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea to prolong that joyous spell. 35 cents, Tea or Tablet. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Details of a Diabolical Crime on Island of St. Lucia.

Kingstown, Island of St. Vincent, Oct. 14.—Police investigation of the murder of a white boy, whose heart and dismembered hands were found in the house of an Obman (negro sorcerer) in the Island of St. Lucia, as related in a dispatch on Oct. 11, has resulted in the arrest of a seemingly intelligent negro butcher and a disclosure of barbarous superstition and diabolism that survives to a startling extent in the West Indies, the heritage of a savage ancestry.

The child, it appears, was the victim of the desire of the man now in custody, who had been concerned in some litigation, to "work a spell" upon the judge of the supreme court who was to try the case. To this end at the direction of the Obman whom he consulted the negro decoyed the child to the house of the Obman on a deserted estate in the extreme northern part of St. Lucia, and there the child was murdered and his corpse dismembered.

Good For Children.

The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough Cure gives instant relief in all cases of Cough, Croup and LaGrippe because it does not pass immediately into the stomach, but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. It draws out the inflammation, heals and soothes and cures permanently by enabling the lungs to contribute pure life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen to the blood and tissues. Sold by A. J. Pellens and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Dastardly Attempt at Revenge.

Portland, Ind., Oct. 14.—While a quartet was singing in connection with a Prohibition rally in the little town of Powers a bullet crashed through a window, passing between the heads of two of the singers. The man who fired the shot jumped into a buggy and drove away. The town was infested with illicit saloons for some years, and these were recently squelched by efforts of the Prohibition leaders, which was doubtless the animus of the attempted assassination.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 14.—Frank Shucraft and Herman Kroma, charged with horse stealing, were found guilty by a jury and were sentenced to prison under the indeterminate sentence act.

Guarding Against Trouble.

New York, Oct. 14.—George J. Esig, the complaining witness in the extortion charge against Philip Weinselmer in the trial before Judge Newburger, is protected by a guard of county detectives. Fearful that an attack would be made on the man who has testified against Weinselmer and is responsible for the labor leader's arrest, District Attorney Jerome has had three detectives accompany him.

They Refrain From Violence.

Cincinnati, Oct. 14.—The strike of the coal drivers has not yet been settled. The action of the courts and the watchfulness of the police, coupled with the advice of the labor leaders to the strikers to refrain from violence, has mitigated the trouble. Some of the coal men say they are able to supply all demands for coal.

Agreements Not Likely.

Boston, Oct. 14.—During the late debate on the divorce question by the house of deputies of the Episcopal general convention, both sides appeared to be as far apart as they were at first, and predictions were freely made that no final action would be taken at this time.

A PLEA FOR PEACE

Notable Movement Looking to International Arbitration Inaugurated.

THANKS TO PRESIDENT

Peace Lovers Grateful to Roosevelt For His Humane Endeavor In Behalf of the Cause.

Society Organized to Create Public Opinion In Favor of Universal Peace.

Pittsburg, Oct. 14.—Jew and Gentile, Protestant and Catholic, men of the cloth and men whose only religion is an ethical code, filled to the doors last night the Eighth street temple of the Congregation Rodeph Shalom and amid much enthusiasm founded in Pittsburg a society for the promulgation of the doctrine of international arbitration and universal peace. From representatives of religious bodies and from educators came indorsement of the movement. Added to their pleas in behalf of the abolition of war were messages of indorsement from President Roosevelt, Secretary of State John Hay and from Andrew Carnegie. The highest expectations of Rabbi J. Leonard Levy of the congregation, who issued the call for the meeting were more than realized by the large attendance and the results accomplished.

The principal object of the meeting was attained when a set of resolutions presented by Rabbi Levy was adopted by a rising vote. The resolutions tender to President Roosevelt the best thanks of the meeting for his word of encouragement and for his humane endeavor in behalf of the cause of international arbitration and universal peace and solicit the chief magistrate's further help in behalf of the cause; return grateful thanks to John Hay, secretary of state, for his inspiring message delivered to the Thirtieth International Peace congress at Boston, and ask a continuance of his powerful influence.

The closing resolution enjoins the presiding officer and the various vice presidents of the meeting to form themselves into a committee to be convened by the mover of the resolutions, and that they take steps to effect an organization with headquarters at Pittsburg, which shall have for its chief object the creation of public opinion and the strengthening of the sentiment in behalf of international arbitration and universal peace.

Chancellor Samuel B. McCormick of the Western University of Pennsylvania presided.

PARKER AND GORMAN

How the Latter Has the Complete Confidence of the Former.

New York, Oct. 14.—What is regarded as the most significant conference held during Alton B. Parker's latest visit to New York was that with Senator Gorman of Maryland. It became known that the candidate and the senator are in thorough accord regarding the conduct of the campaign and that everything that has been done is regarded by both as tending toward success.

Felicitations were exchanged over the successful efforts that have been made to harmonize all leaders and factions in the party, and the fact that nearly four weeks before the election all Democrats and factions were working together was regarded, they declared as reason for gratification. The work of the campaign, it is now understood, is to be pushed with undiminished vigor, and the closing weeks are to equal all past campaigns in speaking, processions and meetings which will arouse the voters.

Woman Slain in Duel.

Europa, Miss., Oct. 14.—In a duel fought at close range between James Stallings and Mrs. Dixie Beard at Coloma, near Europa, Mrs. Beard was instantly killed. Stallings was fatally wounded, dying later. Beard and his young child were slightly hurt. The cause of the trouble is unknown. Details are meager.

Helene Given a Setback.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 14.—The supreme court has held the Walsworth Democrats of Silver Bow county to be regular. The effect is to shut out the so-called Helene Democrats of that county from a place on the ticket under the designation "Democratic." Butte is in Silver Bow county.

Surrounded in the Woods.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 14.—Edward Donohue, charged with killing A. M. Northrop of Benton Harbor, Mich., near Hobart, Ind., and for whom the authorities of Michigan and Indiana have been searching for nearly a week, is said to be surrounded in a woods near Grand Junction, Mich.

Bodies Unidentified.

Bellaire, Ohio, Oct. 14.—The dead bodies of two men, aged about forty-five and sixty-five respectively, were found last evening on the Ohio river bank just below the city. Investigation shows that they committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. Nothing to identify them was found.
